Refuse To Fire Counsel

House Probers Say Decision May Not Be Final in Investigation of FCC

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House investigating subcommittee voted 6-5 today against firing its controversial counsel, Bernard Schwartz, but said the decision was not necessarily final.

The subcommittee ordered Schwartz to appear at a closed hearing later today.

Schwartz, 34, a professor from New York University, replied that he would not appear at the closed hearing if it planned to question him about his own conduct and expense accounts. He said he would insist on a public hearing.

The subcommittee, called the legislative oversight subcommittee, has been looking into charges of expense account padding by officials of government regulatory agencies and other misconduct.

The inquiry has been marked by bickering among members of the subcommittee, intracommittee attacks on Schwartz' conduct of the inquiry, threats by its chairman, Rep. Morgan M. Moulder (D-Mo.) to resign, and counter charges of expense account padding by Schwartz.

A showdown was at hand in the tangled affairs of the subcommittee, its staff and its investigation.

Schwartz added to the controversy surrounding the probe today by charging that improper "influence" has been exercised by White House and Cabinet officials over some FCC decisions.

He told United Press "we have evidence" that chief presidential assistant Sherman Adams "has influenced decisions" and that President Eisenhower's brother-in-law, Col. George Gordon Moore, "figured in many cases." Moore is the husband of Mrs. Eisenhower's only sister.

Asked to Appear

Schwartz also named Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and former Undersecretary of Commerce Robert B. Murray Jr. but did not go into particulars on when or how they exercised alleged "influence" over the commission.

The White House had no immediate comment on Schwartz's charges.

Moulder said the subcommittee, in a two-hour closed session from which Schwartz was excluded, discussed criticism of the chief counsel. He said the subcommittee discussed complaints that Schwartz is "dealing in too many petty matters."

Moulder said the subcommittee had directed him to send Schwartz a written request to appear at this afternoon's secret session. Moulder said the afternoon meeting was for Schwartz to brief the subcommittee on future planned hearings.

However, he said Schwartz's employment with the subcommittee "probably" would come up again.

Holden Hospital Sold for $275,000

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Sale of the 34-year-old Holden Hospital here for $275,000 has been approved by the Hospital Corp.

Included in the purchase by the Southern Illinois Hospital Corp. are the hospital and several lots with two buildings. The executive board of the Holden Hospital Corp. said Friday that the only other bid for the hospital was from staff doctors who offered $100,000. The doctors' bid was only for the hospital proper.

The Southern Illinois Hospital Corp. also operates Doctors Hospital in Carbondale and Herrin Hospital in Herrin. Sale of the 55-bed Holden Hospital by the Southern Illinois Conference of Methodist Churches was contingent upon the legal right of the church to sell the not-for-profit institution.

An injunction obtained by some members of the executive board blocked an earlier attempt to sell the hospital. At that time, there were financial difficulties involved.

Boy, 7, Dies Instantly; Girl, 19, Later

Accident Occurs Near Old O'Gara 1 Mine Site Sunday

Two members of a family from Browns, in Edwards county, were killed and ten persons were injured Sunday afternoon in a crash that involved four automobiles on Route 45 about three miles north of Harrisburg.

Dead are a brother and sister, Quentin Brown, 7, and Deloris Brown, 18. The little boy was killed instantly in the crash, which occurred between 4:30 and 5 p. m., and his sister died about 9 p. m. in Lightner hospital here.

They were in a car driven by another sister, Betty, 19, which also contained their mother, Minnie, 47, owner of the car, brother Vernon, 14, and sister Donna, 12, all injured and in Lightner hospital.

Others injured Also in Lightner hospital are Carroll Partain, 20, Broughton, driver of the car which figured in a head-on crash with the Brown auto, and one of his passengers, Pat McGuire, 20, of Junction. Another passenger, Dale Vickery of Junction, was badly cut and was hospitalized at Ferrell hospital in Eldorado and two other passengers, Dave Prather and Richard Overton, both of Eldorado, were not hurt.

Taken to Harrisburg hospital was a Mattoon, Ill., family, whose car also figured in the crash. They are Louis B. Neira, 40, a Mattoon pharmacist, who suffered numerous lacerations; his wife, Catherine, 38, who suffered a broken leg and other injuries; their son Richard, 7, whose injuries were minor.

State Police Sergeant Herbert Bramlet and State Trooper Michael Taggart, who were called to the accident, said that the Brown automobile was travelling north, followed by an auto driven by Gilbert Wargel and the Neira auto. Wargel is from Equality.

Boy Thrown From Auto The Partain auto was coming toward Harrisburg, they said, and a head-on crash occurred about 100 yards northeast of the old O'Gara 1 mine site on a straight stretch of dry pavement.

Wargel was able to veer down a steep embankment on the south side of the road and he and his car occupants were not injured but Neira's auto crashed into the wreckage just ahead of him, the officers said.

The little Brown boy was thrown out of his automobile and his body, with head crushed, was found underneath the Wargel auto.

Ambulances rushed to the scene to take the eleven injured persons to hospitals.

The Brown, Partain and Neira automobiles were total or near-total losses.

The body of the Brown boy was taken to the Bean and Tanner funeral home at Eldorado and later his body and the body of his sister were taken to the Nail funeral home at Albion. Browns is about five miles east of Albion.

Coroner James Thornton has set the inquest for 7 p. m. Tuesday at the Eldorado city hall.

Paralyzing Snowstorm in N. Y.

Numbing Cold Wave Tightens Its Grip On Most of Nation

Central New York State battled a paralyzing snowstorm today, and a numbing cold wave tightened its grasp over much of the rest of the nation.

The New York snowstorm brought traffic to a virtual standstill between Albany and Buffalo, forcing schools and most industries in the 300-mile area to remain closed today.

At least 10 deaths in New York were blamed on the storm. Most occurred in accidents on storm-swept highways since Friday.

Northwesterly winds scooped moisture from Lake Ontario during the weekend and dumped it across the state in blinding snow flurries.

Syracuse was buried under 37 inches of snow at midnight, and wind gusts of more than 50 miles an hour piled the snow into six-foot drifts.

The New York Thruway from Albany to Buffalo was blocked until 2:30 a. m. e.s.t. by towering drifts, and highway crews fought a losing battle elsewhere trying to keep roads open. Travel on most main highways was limited to emergency traffic.

Cold to Continue

Forecasters warned of continued cold and windy weather in New York today with blowing and drifting snow and scattered snow flurries. Blizzard-like conditions were predicted east and southeast of Lake Ontario.

Elsewhere, arctic blasts from the north knifed as far south as the Gulf where the mercury dropped to the freezing mark overnight in southern Georgia and southern Mississippi.

Florida's frost-bitten tourists and farms also felt the cold weather sting as the mercury plunged to near or below freezing from the northern sections of the state to south of Miami.

The cold air has delayed the replanting of truck farms frozen out by earlier cold snaps and has thrown some 20,000 migrant farmers out of work. In addition, more than one million cattle face starvation on the frost-killed ranges.

Temperatures got no higher than the 40s in New Orleans Sunday, but the chilly air failed to dampen the opening of the Mardi Gras celebration. Thousands of spectators donned doorknobs to watch the gala parades.

Sub-zero readings were common throughout the upper Midwest during the night from Iowa and Illinois through the Dakotas, Minnesota and Michigan. Temperatures skidded into the teens or lower from Kansas through Kentucky and Virginia.

Brother of Mrs. Bert Gaskins Sr. Dies

Hayden Clark of Columbus, Ohio, died early Sunday morning following a long illness. The funeral will be held in Columbus Wednesday and burial will be there. He was the brother of Mrs. Bert Gaskins Sr. of Harrisburg and Mrs. Gaskins and other relatives have gone to Columbus.

James "Jimmy" Harper, 74, resident of Stonefort, died at the Marion Memorial hospital at 8 p. m. Sunday. The body will lie in state at the Thornon funeral home in Stonefort until the funeral at 1 p. m. Wednesday in the Reynoldsburg church. Rev. Freddie Neibel will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

Bombing Imperils Western Position

Wave of Anger Against France

By United Press

A wave of anger against France for the bombing of a Tunisian village rolled across the Arab world with fresh momentum today and imperiled the Western—and American—position in North Africa.

Tunisia appeared ready to sever diplomatic relations with France and expel the 25,000 French troops stationed there for defense purposes.

The United States was shocked and indignant at the bombing which killed 75 persons and injured 84. Other allies of France were deeply concerned because of friendship with Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba has been the anchor of Western policy in North Africa.

Nations friendly to the United States expressed fear the bombing could turn into a major propaganda victory for the Soviet Union. Most of the 25 planes used against the Tunisian village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef were of American make and the dead included 12 children and nine women.

Egypt, Syria Capitalize

Egypt and Syria moved swiftly to capitalize on the anti-French feelings which erupted today into a general strike in the French protectorate which won independence in 1955. President Gamal Abdel Nasser promised immediate military aid to Tunisia. Syrian President Shukri el Kuwaty promised aid and accused France of a "savage act of criminal aggression."

The Saturday bombing attack brought these rapid fire developments:

—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles summoned French Ambassador Herve Alphand to his Washington home late Sunday and told him the United States was "profoundly disturbed" at the action.

—The State Department issued a statement expressing concern at future Tunisian-French relations and pointing out that both countries were friends of the United States.

—Tunisian Ambassador Mongi Slim delivered a strong protest to United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and demanded Security Council action against France. Whether this was possible over the French council veto was not known.

—French diplomatic circles in Paris said France has a "very strong case" against Tunisia if that country presses its U. N. demand. French defense Minister Jacques Chaban-Delmas reaffirmed France's contention the raid was against a rebel anti-aircraft unit that fired on French planes.

—Spain, with important stakes in North Africa itself, was outspoken in its criticism of France. The Catholic newspaper "Ya" said the action would strengthen Russia's hand and help extremist groups of Pan-Arab nationalism.

—In Cairo the Algerian Independence Movement called the attack a "declaration of war on an independent country," set out to raise a 30 million dollars annual war chest and sought to mobilize Tunisia and Morocco against France.

Selling Frigidaire Appliances Since 1928

It's always a real thrill to me when Frigidaire introduces its new appliances for the coming year—but frankly, the new 1958 models surpass anything in my experience.

I knew something good was coming up as this is General Motors' 50th Anniversary Year, and Frigidaire would naturally create its best.

Believe me, they have! In my opinion, the new Golden Anniversary Models top anything you've seen.

You remember what a hit the Sheer Look's been for 1957? Now they've topped even that! Inside and out, these new 1958 Refrigerators and Ranges are design masterpieces.

And talk about features—listen to this.

In a new Frigidaire Electric Range you can broil a hundred times and never need to clean the oven! I mean it—it's something brand-new called a Radiant Wall Broiler Grill.

You can even dial the "doneness," right from the panel before you begin.

Even roasting and barbecuing are automatic and fool-proof. No more peeking, poking or probing. There's faster-than-ever surface cooking—and everything is so beautifully designed, cleaning is a cinch. My wife says, "If you can read, you can cook like an expert on this new Frigidaire Electric Range."

The New Refrigerator Models offer instant ice service. You get a shower of "frosty-dry" ice cubes at the flick of a finger, automatically stored for you. Plenty for the biggest dinner party.

There's Flowing Cold that gets foods cooler faster, keeps them fresher. There's Roll-to-You Shelves. New Picture Window Hydrator with Moisture Control — how you'll love that. And it's the most flexible, usable, handiest, and easiest-to-clean refrigerator ever invented.

And believe you me, that famous Frigidaire quality sticks out in every inch. It's just a fact that nobody builds quality like Frigidaire. That's why I like to sell 'em. There's never a worry for me or for you.

I sincerely would like to have you drop in and see these new Golden Anniversary Models from Frigidaire as soon as you can.

Harrisburg's Frigidaire dealer continuously for 30 years, rendering the best in Frigidaire Service.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Mrs. Nina
McDole, who died Feb. 10, 1942:
We are sad in our memories,
Lonely in our hearts today,
For the one we loved so dearly,
Has forever been called away.
We think of her in silence,
No eye can see us weep,
But many silent tears are shed
When others are asleep.
Sadly missed by her husband and children. 189-1

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Mrs. Charles (Elsie) Lowe, who passed away on Feb. 10, one year ago today:
Dear mother, one year has passed
Since that sad day, when you were called to go away.
God took you home, it was His will.
But in our hearts forever you liveth still.
Your memory lingers, always loving, kind and true.
There's never a day or night that passes
When we do not think of you.
The depths of sorrow, we cannot tell,
Of the loss of you dear mother,
That we loved so well.

MILWAUKEE — (UP) — The

Knifers Stab Two Women And Detective

CHICAGO (U.P.) — A struggle in a darkened elevated train station resulted in an intensive police search today for one of two knifers who stabbed two women and a rescuing detective.

Police arrested Henry Marshall, 19, who identified his companion in the assault as Johnny Tribbelle, 25, both Negroes. The men assaulted four women returning from a late movie Sunday night.

The women told police the knife-wielding men confronted them as they stepped off a train on Chicago's West Side. The men grabbed $2.25 from Betty Kime, 22, a student nurse at Cook County Hospital.

Miss Kime said one of the men tried to rape her in a darkened section of the station while the other man attacked Ann Dykstra, 24, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Miss Kime was stabbed in the chest and arm, and Miss Dykstra was slashed on the chest. Two other women, both from Hutsonville, Mich., were not injured. They were Jean Young, 20, a student at Calvin College and Grace Vruwink, 22, a teacher.

The sounds of the struggle and the cries of the women were heard by a special detective for the Chicago Transit Authority, Albert Nicpon, 57.

He was stabbed three times in the chest and shoulder before the men fled from the sound of a shot he fired.

State Lists One New Extension to Harco Oil Pool

URBANA, Ill. (U.P.) — The state Geological Survey Division reported today one new oil pool, Ashmore South in Coles County, was discovered in Illinois during January.

An additional oil well and a gas well had been completed in the new pool by the end of January, the survey said.

The January drilling report also listed one new extension to each of the following pools: Kincaid South in Christian County, Harco in Saline County, and Storms Consolidated in White County.

A total of 216 wells were completed in January, for an average of 43 a week. The completions included 92 oil wells and one gas well, for a success rate of 43 per cent.

Boy Dies in Fire at Fairfield

FAIRFIELD, Ill. (U.P.) — An inquest was scheduled here tonight into the death of a 4-month-old boy who perished in a fire that destroyed the home of his parents and hospitalized his mother and a brother.

The victim was Roger Gwaltney. Recovering satisfactorily from burns suffered in the fire Sunday are his mother, Mrs. Wilma Gwaltney, 32, and a brother, Lawrence, 3. Three other children escaped without injury.

Authorities said the fire occurred after the father, Wilburn, an oilfield worker, had left for work. Firemen said one fire truck ran out of gas en route to the fire.

State to Crack Down on Slot Machine Operations

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.) — Gov. Stratton said today an all-out drive will be made to crack down on slot machine operations "wherever they are found" in Illinois, including those in private clubs and veterans organizations headquarters.

Stratton told a news conference he had reached his decision to crack down on slot machines after a number of meetings with Atty. Gen. Latham Castle.

He said there were indications that racketeering elements have become involved in slot machine operations, even in private clubs and "we have come to the conclusion we'd better do something about it."

This week, Stratton said, the attorney general will contact the state's attorney in each county in an effort to put the anti-slot machine drive into effect. "It has gotten to be a serious problem in a number of counties," he said.

Stratton said he had received a number of complaints but declined to identify the counties where "racketeering elements" were involved and from which complaints had been received.

Jobless Claims In State Highest Since June 1954

CHICAGO (U.P.) — The Illinois Labor Department reported today the number of applications for unemployment compensation in the week ending Jan. 25 was the largest in 3½ years.

Roy F. Cummins, state labor director, reported 173,933 applications were made in the week of Jan. 25, the highest since the recession of June, 1954. He pointed out it was considerably less than the 226,765 applications for the week ending July 16, 1949, the state's record high.

The current rush of applications has slowed the handling of claims. It was said, and the first compensation check cannot be mailed until more than three weeks after the application is received. The average jobless pay amounts to $30.42 weekly, the department said.

Navy Reveals Weapon, Answer To Sub Threat

PASADENA, Calif. (U.P.) — The U. S. Navy today took the wraps off a revolutionary new anti-submarine weapon billed as America's answer to Russia's formidable undersea fleet.

It is the rocket-assisted torpedo—nicknamed the RAT.

The weapon is a cross-breed ballistic missile and torpedo capable of killing enemy subs at a distance undreamed of by World War II destroyer skippers, the Navy said.

Coupled to the 5-inch gun turret of a destroyer, it hurls a torpedo through the air like a comet-tailed javelin to attack a submarine miles from the attacking ship.

Although the exact range of the new weapon is classified, Navy sources said it conservatively increases torpedo effectiveness by 500 per cent. The Navy said officially that it increases the anti-submarine range of a destroyer from a few hundred yards to "many square miles."

The RAT was described as a three-stage missile. Once in its trajectory it sheds its rocket booster and airframe including stabilizing fins. As it starts its descending arc it pops open a small parachute which acts partly as a stabilizer and partly to reduce the entry impact. Once in the water, it automatically cuts free from its parachute and protective nose cone and begins ranging in circles to seek out its target with an acoustical homing "brain."

Hurt by Rocket In Amateur Firing

OMAHA (U.P.) — Allan Lozier, 24, whose body was pierced by an 18-inch rocket in an amateur missile firing, was reported improving in Immanuel Hospital.

Lozier and four other men were testing the sulphur and zinc powder powered missile in an Omaha park Saturday when it fell to its side at takeoff, skittered 70 yards and struck Lozier.

The narrow missile penetrated his midsection and was imbedded to its tail fins. It later was removed by surgery, and officials said today Lozier's condition was "fair."

THE STORY: In spite of the slaying of settlers by the Modocs, Ward Sebastian says lack of understanding by the whites has been chiefly responsible for the uprising. He is on the trail to his ranch with a pack train of Army supplies.

XIV

It was a freak morning, one of those rare interludes wherein a reluctantly departing fall season mustered enough vitality to hold back, for a few hours at least, the remorseless, onrushing advance of winter. Ice glazed every small spread of water beside the trail. But the sky had cleared during the night and when a couple of hours gone from Mike Golway's place, the pack train and its escort moved into the eye of a late-rising and faintly warming sun.

On all sides the world lay clear to the eye. West and north ran the distant bulk of the Siskiyou, snow massed at the summits, dark with timber below. East and south, beyond the flats, it was a rugged, broken world, studded with lava darkened ridges and buttes, slashed with long running rims. Yet, over all there ruled a presence. South it towered. The mountain. The lofty, serene, pure pyramid that was Shasta!

Connie Ashland couldn't take her eyes off it. She exclaimed to her brother as she rode with him for a time. After which she reined over beside Ward Sebastian.

"It just doesn't seem real," she marveled. "It is so pure and flawless in every way. It could be the mother of all creation, in a robe of spotless ermine."

He smiled at her exuberance. "That mountain is pretty much the hub of our physical world here," he said. "When I was a boy, a very old and very wise Indian told me that once you lived close to Shasta and fell under its spell, then, no matter where else you journeyed, you must come back to the mountain again to find your happiness."

She rode at Sebastian's side for a considerable distance. She inquired about his arm and he spoke truthfully when he told her it was much better. She became all eyes and ears and interest for the world around her.

"The military should detail you as a scout, Miss Ashland. You don't miss a thing."

"This," she reported simply, "is a new world to me. And I want to see it all; mountain, sky, birds, beasts—everything."

Curbside telephone pay stations are being tried out in Chicago. They may be used by a motorist without his leaving the car.

Again, as last night, his thoughts went back to Yreka, to Anne Biglow, and in his mind's eye he tried to create an image of Anne in the saddle beside him, eager and interested in this world of his, as was Connie Ashland. The picture wouldn't come to life.

As Sebastian feared, the brightness of the morning did not last very long. Well before mid-day a scud of overcast began to build up, squeezing the last drop of cheer from the sun, then blanketing it out completely. The world turned cold and mists lifted from the wet earth to layer all the flats and choke the gulches in darkness and a gray chill.

Connie Ashland reined a trifle closer to Sebastian.

"Now," she said, her tone subdued, "I grow a little fearful of this wild land of yours. The benevolence I saw in it a while ago seems to have entirely left."

"Yes, you might say so," he agreed. "But it is a land of many faces. Wait until you see it in the spring. Then you'll forget all about such days as this one."

"I won't be here in the spring. As soon as this Modoc trouble is cleared up, brother Phil expects to be ordered to either a Dakota or Arizona Territory post. And I'll be going with him, of course."

"If," said Sebastian, "your leaving here depends on an end of the Modoc trouble, you'll still be around next spring."

She glanced at him, startled.

"You must be mistaken. Jud Dillon says that 30 or 40 days at the outside will see the end of all resistance."

"Not a chance," Sebastian told her bluntly. "Captain Dillon and a number of other military minds are due for a surprise, an unpleasant one. They've simply no idea what they are going up against, and they refuse to listen to some of us who do."

"Would you claim greater knowledge of military problems than that of men trained in such things?"

"In a case of this sort, I would

I know the country. Captain Dillon, for example, does not. I doubt he has the slightest idea of what the lava beds are like. Where Captain Jack and his people are hiding up is one of the most rugged, savage parts. Any military tactics Captain Dillon and others like him have learned or studied in the past, simply won't apply. I'm afraid a lot of men will die before some minds wake up to the realities."

"But," she protested, "there aren't very many Modocs. Philip says our forces far outnumber them."

"Quite true. At least 20 to one. But the lavas cut such odds way down. Fighting in them, a Modoc warrior who knows them is equal to 20 white men who don't."

They drifted into silence and presently Connie Ashland reined away to ride again with her brother and his troopers.

As Sebastian had expected, there was no slightest hint of trouble along the trail. They met no one, they saw no one. They moved through a world empty but for themselves. A world that steadily turned more gray and misty as hours passed.

Various Organizations to Aid Boy Scouts Safety Good Turn

As they begin their part in the Yearlong Safety Good Turn in 1958, the Egyptian Council of the Boy Scouts of America has the assistance of several organizations concerned with safety.

The Boy Scouts have responded to President Eisenhower's suggestion to adopt Safety as their service project for this year.

This is being done primarily as a public service to the community, state, and nation and particularly as a contribution to its own members according to Arthur A. Swanson, chairman of the Safety Project committee of the Egyptian Council, Boy Scouts of America.

"We are launching the Safety Good Turn on February 9th, Mr. Swanson said, by holding a kickoff ceremony at the Marion Junior high school at 3 p. m."

"Through Boy Scouts and their families," he explained, "and through their community service projects, the safety movement throughout the country will be stimulated."

"Through safety education—understanding the principles of safe living and their importance—lives will be saved among boys of Scout age and also among younger children and adults influenced by this dynamic generation of boys."

Mr. Swanson said that the full resources of the Boy Scouts of America will focus on a program designed to reduce death, injury and property damage from accidents, not only for the year of the effective campaign, but on a continuing basis.

In the local Safety Good Turn, more than 4,000 Scouts and leaders will be busy until the end of the year. Traffic safety will be promoted in March, April and May, followed by outdoor safety in June, July and August and home safety in September, October and November.

The Scouts' program seeks to interest the youth of America in safety and through them to help reduce the tragic toll of accidental deaths and injuries. It will strive to arouse public concern of the adults of the nation to do something about accident prevention.

The Boy Scouts will cooperate with public officials, safety organizations, and all those supporting the safety movement. Members will plan and carry out specific individual, group, and community projects for safety. The safety part of the Boy Scout program itself will be intensified by teaching proper attitudes and practices to make safety a very personal and fundamental part of everyday living.

"Without the guidance, technical information and cooperation of local organizations and individuals promoting safety," said Mr. Swanson, "it would be a difficult task for the Boy Scouts of America to successfully carry out President Eisenhower's request."

He listed the following organizations as cooperating with the Boy Scout Safety Good Turn: National Safety Council, Association of American Railroads, American Society of Safety Engineers, State Police, local Police and Fire Departments, Red Cross and many others.

During the traffic safety phase in the spring the following groups will be helping the Boy Scouts: Police departments, sheriff's offices, city and county traffic departments, local traffic safety commit tees, Automobile Association of America, driver education teachers, and casualty insurance companies and agencies.

When the outdoor safety phase of the Good Turn is carried out in the summer, the following groups will be guiding the Scouts' efforts. National Rifle Association clubs, State Department of Forestry, sportsmen's clubs, outdoor clubs, U. S. Forest Service, national and state park officials, and U. S. state, and county conservation officials.

In the final phase of the program, home safety, during the fall the following groups have agreed to help the Boy Scouts: fire departments, insurance companies and officials, Red Cross chapters, and Civil Defense.

The 1958 Safety Good Turn provides every Cub Scout, Boy Scout, and Explorer an opportunity to be identified as a member of America's greatest safety crusade team. Each will learn how the individual can contribute to the safety of the home, school, community and the nation.

By taking part in a nationwide event every member will be on Scouting's safety team through participation and will get to recognize the importance of home safety and preparedness.

A telephone for intercommunication between skin divers has been patented. It is contained in a 10-inch cylinder, weighs seven pounds, is battery operated and has a range of 2,000 yards.

Wolverines Lead Big Ten Race, Only 2½ Games in Front of Last Place Illini

CHICAGO (AP) — The touch-and-go Big Ten Conference race could undergo another shuffling with 10 teams in action tonight.

Only 2-1-2 games separate front running Michigan from last place Illinois with the leaders holding a percentage lead over runner-up Purdue and 1-2 game margins over Michigan State, Iowa and Indiana, all deadlocked in third position.

Regional Junior High Tourney To Begin Tuesday

The Junior high school regional basketball tournament will be held at Carrier Mills, starting Tuesday with three games. Four schools — Harrisburg, Carrier Mills, Eldorado and Norris City — advanced directly to regional competition and will be joined by the winners of the top three places in the district meet that closed Friday night.

Coming out of the district are New Haven, New Shawneetown and Old Shawneetown. Grayville was originally scheduled to come to the regional but withdrew. The host school drew Grayville in the pairings made several weeks ago, now Carrier Mills has a bye through the first round.

The drawings:
Tuesday, 6 p. m.
Game 1, Harrisburg vs. Old Shawneetown.
Game 2, New Haven vs. New Shawneetown.
Game 3, Eldorado vs. Norris City.

Thursday, 6:30
Game 4, winner games 1 and 2
Game 5, Carrier Mills vs. winner game 3.

Friday, 7 p. m.
Game 6, losers games 4 and 5 (consolation).
Game 7, winners games 4 and 5 (championship).

The Norris City-Eldorado game shapes up as probably the top game of the tourney. Eldorado was unbeaten in regular season play until Friday night, dropping a close decision to Norris City, giving the teams an even split in a home-and-home series. The final game of Tuesday night's session will be the rubber match and will keep the winner in championship consideration. All games will be played in the Carrier Mills grade school gym with Ron Culbreth, Carrier Mills coach, tourney manager.

Herrin Edges West Frankfort 38-35; Mount Vernon, Carmi and Benton Win

By United Press
Defending state champion Herrin was at the top of the heap again today in southern Illinois high school basketball.

The Tigers defeated West Frankfort for the second time this season by a slim, 38-35, count Saturday after West Frankfort had nipped Mount Vernon, 55-53 in overtime Friday.

Going into the weekend, Herrin had been ranked first in the state. West Frankfort fourth and Mount Vernon ninth.

Herrin and Mount Vernon collide Friday. In other southern Illinois games Saturday Mount Vernon whipped Marion, 62-48, Carmi edged Centralia, 55-50, McLeansboro beat Harrisburg, 81-74, Benton tripped Eldorado 88-77, and Carrier Mills

The top bracketed Wolverines visit Minnesota, winners of its last two outings, while Purdue is at Illinois, Indiana at Wisconsin, Iowa at Michigan State and Ohio State at Northwestern.

The Wolverines, absent from first for a week, climbed past rival Michigan State with an 88-81 victory over Illinois, sending the Illini into the cellar spot.

Indiana assisted in toppling Michigan State with an 82-79 victory sparked by a balanced scoring attack with leading conference point getter Archie Dees high with 21. Dees leads with a 24.1 average ahead of Don Ohl of Illinois. Minnesota escaped the cellar with a 71-66 win over Wisconsin in a regionally televised afternoon affair. George Kline sizzled the nets with 30 points, 20 in the second half, to pace the Gophers and move to third place in the individual scoring race.

Purdue moved into contention for the first time this season with a fast breaking attack which knocked Ohio State into sixth place, 83-63. Center Jake Elson and guard Harvey Austin netted 15 apiece to pace the Boilermaker attack.

Iowa took time out from conference action to sting Miami of Ohio.

Although in a deadlock for seventh place, Northwestern boasts of the best point average in the conference with a blistering 79.1. The Wildcats, who meet Ohio State, also own two of the conference's top 10 scorers in center Joe Ruklick and Phil Warren.

Locals Lose Four Via Foul Route; Play Benton Friday, Eagles Saturday

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs lost an 81 to 74 decision Saturday night to the Foxes at McLeansboro to give them an even break for the week-end. This week the locals entertain Benton Friday night, then go to Eldorado for the big new gym dedication the following evening.

The Foxes, who outshot the locals both from the field and the free throw line, took the lead early in the fourth quarter after Harrisburg had held slight margins most of the time up to that point.

When the last quarter started the Bull Dogs were ahead 57-56 but good shooting from the field and free throw line put the Foxes out in front and they were able to expand the margin as the final quarter progressed.

Bull Pups Lose, 71-55
Harrisburg, which made its first 12 free shots, was able to make but one basket in six one-and-one chances the last period, while in the same frame McLeansboro was making eight out of 12 shots.

Harrisburg led 13-12 at the quarter but trailed 31-30 at halftime after leading all the way up to the last basket which put the Foxes ahead. Both teams put on terrific shooting performances the third quarter with Harrisburg making 27 points and McLeansboro 24.

Both teams made 28 field goals but Harrisburg shot 81 times to but 59 for the Foxes and the percentages were .346 for the Bull Dogs and .475 for the opponents.

High scorer was Jerry Sloan of the Foxes, who had 32 points. They included 16 free throws in 21 attempts. Ray Hassett and Bob Pavelonis, each with 18 points, were high for Harrisburg.

In the preliminary contest the locals lost to McLeansboro, 71 to 55.

American All-Stars Defeat Nationals, 4-3

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Billy Martin of Detroit has a one-track mind about base hits—regardless of whether he's out there swinging for money, marbles or sweet charity.

The Tigers' new infielder proved it to an overflow crowd of 6,500 Sunday when he clouted a pair of long doubles to lead the American League All-Stars to a 4-3 victory over the National League in a charity game staged by the Major League Players' Assn.

Martin's second double of the game scored Jim Hegan of Cleveland in the seventh inning and broke a 3-3 tie.

Proceeds of the game were channeled into a fund for oldtime players and their widows, who were left out of the recent pension program set up by the Assn.

Ex-Cleveland pitcher Bob Feller, president of the association, started on the mound for the American League and Billy Klaus of the Red Sox lit into his first pitch for the only home run of the game.

Klaus, playing with the National League, because there were not enough players for equal distribution on both sides, also tripled off southpaw Whitey Ford of the Yankees in the third inning. Bob Turley took over the American League pitching in the fifth inning and was the winner.

Jim Konstanty started for the National League and gave way to lanky Nellie King, formerly of the Pirates, in the seventh.

Hawks Drop Four Of Last Five

By United Press
Coach Alex Hannum may learn his future in St. Louis today upon the Hawks' arrival home from a rocky road trip on which they dropped four of their last five games.

Hannum is in an unusual position. His Hawks lead the Western Division of the National Basketball Association by six games but club owner Ben Kerner delivered a curt "start-winning-or-else" ultimatum to his coach eight days ago.

The Hawks managed to win only one game in five starts since then. Philadelphia, hottest team in the circuit at the moment, defeated St. Louis, 105-98, Sunday for its seventh victory in eight starts.

Togo Palazzi scored seven straight points in the fourth period to help the Syracuse Nationals defeat his former Boston Celtic teammates, 123-98.

Cincinnati strengthened its hold on second place in the Western Division with a 121-104 win over the Minneapolis Lakers. The last-place New York Knickerbockers, still hopeful of landing a playoff berth in the Eastern Division, beat the Detroit Pistons, 100-98.
